

City of St. Louis

Current COVID-19 Restrictions

Anyone age 9 and older in the City of St. Louis is required to wear face coverings, except for certain provisions.

Face coverings are required outdoors for individuals not fully vaccinated (14 days past COVID-19 vaccination), and who cannot socially distance from individuals/groups from different households).

Follow additional prevention methods, such as washing your hands with soap/water, and disinfecting surfaces in your home and work.

Restaurants, bars and nightclubs shall limit capacity to allow for social distancing (6 feet of distance between individuals/groups from different households). Establishments must close by 3 a.m.

Large venues and cultural attractions are limited to social distancing requirements (6 feet of distance between individuals/groups from different households).

Houses of worship may gather, but must maintain social distancing and require facial coverings.

Fitness center facilities must limit occupancy to maintain social distancing. All staff and patrons must wear a face covering.
