My kids are past the age now, but a lined soccer field in the valley and south of the racquet ball courts, in addition to the one between the baseball fields, would have been a tremendous addition. Yes, parking would be tight for people attending games, but it would be worth the inconvenience to add a couple more fields to the area. _____

MEMORANDUM

TO: Donna Barringer
FROM: Rick Palank
DATE: November 13, 2009
RE: Attachment to Francis Park Community Interest Survey

The following is my reply to Question #14.

The SLHNA History Committee would appreciate consideration being given to convert part of the building adjacent to the tennis courts into the permanent SLHNA History Museum.

The Committee strongly believes that a neutral and permanent home is critical for the preservation of the many artifacts that it has been collecting for about a year. Currently, they are being housed in Committee members' homes.

Without going into detail here, it is apparent that storing historical artifacts in individuals' homes over the past 10+ years has been very detrimental to the control and preservation of these artifacts. It is critically important that a neutral location be found.

The Committee believes that the Francis Park building noted above would be the perfect location for a number of reasons, including its neutrality, its' central location within St. Louis Hills, and its' access to the residents of St. Louis Hills, especially at times when Association-sponsored events will be taking place in Francis Park (e.g., Run for the Hills, Art in the Park, etc.).

While the costs associated with making this conversion possible (e.g., HVAC, security, etc.) have not been determined, the Committee believes that this proposal warrants further study.
