

JOB OPPORTUNITY

FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The Ethics Project is sponsoring an informational session this Saturday, May 21, 2011, at Schlafly Library. The meeting will begin at 2:00 p.m. and will end at 3:00 p.m. with time for one-on-one questions following the presentations. This opportunity is open to high school students interested in earning income during the summer and beyond. Parents are encouraged to attend but are not required. Please mark your calendar and join us on May, 21st along with anyone who may be interested in this opportunity.

This program will:

- Introduce students to the basic process of becoming self-employed
- Teach networking and relationship skills
- Assist students through the process of starting their own "business"
- Teach financial literacy and handling personal income
- Learn the art of jewelry making

The unemployment rate of African American teenagers has reached 50% and few jobs are available this summer. We're offering an opportunity for teenagers to learn how to design and make their own jewelry, take the necessary steps to set up their own home based business, build their customer base and handle the finances when their profits begin to build.
