Resolution No. 62
Breaking Through

WHEREAS, in the film Breaking Through, openly LGBT elected officials at all levels - including the first gay US Senator, Tammy Baldwin - share their stories of self-doubt and triumph over multiple barriers ranging from race and poverty to gender and sexual orientation, revealing a deeply personal, rarely-seen side of politicians and gay people; and

WHEREAS, though featuring politicians, it isn't about politics: it's about people who feel fear and shame, yearning to live meaningful lives; and

WHEREAS, they reveal with surprising vulnerability how they broke through internal and external barriers to achieve the future they envisioned. By showing that "anything is possible," they impact those from any walk of life who are struggling and seek to prevent them from taking their own lives or living in repressed, depressed conditions; and

WHEREAS, Cindy L. Abel formed Atlantis Moon Productions in 2007 to develop film-related projects that launch conversations and impact popular culture. Her first full-length documentary, the award-winning film Breaking Through, was conceived in response to the high number of teens who were taunted because of being gay or perceived to be and committing suicide. Having struggled with coming out, Abel knew the importance of having positive role models and wanted to highlight openly LGBT leaders living authentic and fulfilled lives.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that we pause in our deliberations to recognize the film Breaking Through and we further direct the Clerk of this Board to spread a copy of this Resolution across the minutes of these proceedings and to prepare a commemorative copy to the end that it may be presented at a time and place deemed appropriate by the Sponsor.
