WHEREAS, expanding access to transit is critical to addressing the myriad of challenges facing the St. Louis Metropolitan Region; racial disparities; poverty, crime, and education chief among them; and

WHEREAS, light rail connects communities to economic growth, grows regional productivity, deconcentrates poverty, promotes healthy living, creates vibrant and accessible public spaces, and catalyzes development in struggling neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, the City, in collaboration with the Bi-State Development Agency and East West Gateway, is currently updating the alignment to account for new ridership estimates, as well as relocation of the National Geospatial Agency directly adjacent to the proposed alignment; and

WHEREAS, once complete, the study will allow us to enter Project Development with the Federal Transit Administration, starting a process that will allow us to apply for funding through the New Starts Program; and

WHEREAS, East-West Gateway, our region’s Metropolitan Planning Organization, declared the North/South Metrolink the City’s Locally Preferred Alternative in 2008, and reapproved the alignment’s status as a Tier 1 regional priority in 2015, in the Connection 2045 long-range transportation plan; and
WHEREAS, the Federal Transit Administration recently invested $375,000 into conducting a Transit Oriented Development Planning Study along the North/South Metrolink alignment;

WHEREAS, a successful New Starts application must include a minimum of forty percent (40%) local matching funds; and

WHEREAS, State legislation prohibits the use of funds raised from the gas fee or tolls for public transit; and

WHEREAS, North/South Metrolink will be expensive, and the construction of the full 31.5 mile alignment will require a creative approach to funding; and

WHEREAS, 50% of the proceeds from the half cent economic development sales tax are dedicated to the North-South Metrolink alignment; and

WHEREAS, these projected revenues could provide a financing capacity of over two hundred and fifty million ($250,000,000), and leverage an equivalent amount in New Starts funding, bringing the total project funding to half a billion ($500,000,000); and

WHEREAS, the ongoing study will also identify a viable minimum operable segment, which must combine density, need, and opportunity; and

WHEREAS, the minimum operable segment will serve South St. Louis, which includes the region’s densest communities; and

WHEREAS, the minimum operable segment will serve North St. Louis, which includes the region’s most carless communities; and

WHEREAS, the minimum operable segment will serve the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency, helping to realize the project’s tremendous catalytic potential; and
WHEREAS, the minimum operable segment will serve the recently designated Choice Neighborhood geography, and connect the 53% of households in zipcode 63106 without access to a car to opportunities throughout the region; and

WHEREAS, studies out of the Federal Reserve speak to the transformative impact of light rail, whose recent expansion raised property values by up to thirty percent (30%) in St. Louis County; and

WHEREAS, light rail’s full economic development potential will be harnessed by a strategy that includes innovative approaches to neighborhood and workforce development as well as investments into public safety and infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, together, these initiatives will help grow existing momentum in the central corridor to neighborhoods north and south.
