President Reed introduced Resolutions No. 53 through 71 and No. 73 through 74 and the Clerk was instructed to read same.

Resolution Number 53

Bertha Gilkey-Bonds

WHEREAS, we pause to express our sadness and offer condolences to the family of our long-time friend and community organizer, Bertha Gilkey-Bonds, who was called to her reward on May 24, 2014; and

WHEREAS, Bertha Knox Gilkey was born in Arkansas on March 18th, 1948, to Willie and Irma Robinson; she moved to St. Louis in her early teens and was living with her mother in Cochran Gardens, a public housing complex, near downtown; and

WHEREAS, by 1969 she was active with tenants in a rent strike to improve conditions at the embattled housing complex, which was part of a city-wide group protesting issues at the St. Louis Housing Authority; and

WHEREAS, Bertha was so passionate about improving the living conditions of residents of public housing and low income families that she served on a citywide Tenant Affairs Board and was elected to head the Cochran Tenant Management Organization after being instrumental in persuading the city of St. Louis to move it to a tenant management model in 1976; and

WHEREAS, Bertha Gilkey was always committed to the idea that just because people are low- income that did not mean they should not have the same level of services that people with money had, so she organized the community to make history reforming public housing in St. Louis and across the nation; and

WHEREAS, the Cochran Tenant Management Corporation became the first of its kind in St. Louis. In a short time the new management rehabilitated Cochran Gardens into a relatively safe and comfortable place. Since 1978 the complex was modernized and outfitted with new engineering systems, owing both to Gilkey's fundraising skills and to Cochran's nearly downtown location that could not be ignored by city and federal authorities. By 1992 Cochran received $33 million in federal aid, twice as much as the second-ranking St. Louis housing complex; and

WHEREAS, Gilkey was the subject of a 1993 NBC show Fired Up! The Bertha Gilkey Story produced by John Singleton and President George H. W. Bush visited Cochran Gardens in May 1991, commending tenant management and Betha Gilkey as a leader; and

WHEREAS, in addition to all her accomplishments, recognitions, and awards, Bertha was also a devoted mother to her two children, Antoine and Yvette, who shared her with the citizens of St. Louis or anywhere she was needed to fight the good fight.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOVED by the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that we pause in our deliberations to recognize the great work and activism of Bertha Gilkey-Bonds and offer our condolences at her passing. We further direct the Clerk of this Board to spread a copy of this Resolution across the minutes of these proceedings and to prepare a memorial copy for presentation to the family of Bertha Gilkey at a time and place deemed appropriate by the Sponsor.

Resolution No. 72

National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency Prioritization of St. Louis City location

WHEREAS, on June 4, 2014 the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA) Chief News and Information Officer Christine Phillips confirmed the agency's plans to close its South City operations center and relocate more than 3,000 of its St. Louis City employees to a yet to be determined site, with many possible locations outside of the city of St. Louis; and

WHEREAS, our elected officials and development agency work diligently to retain and grow businesses within the city of St. Louis in an effort to increase the job base, and NGA is currently one of the largest employers in the city; and

WHEREAS, The 3,000 jobs housed at the current NGA location are vital to the economic health of the city of St. Louis, through earning tax revenues and economic support of surrounding businesses and restaurants; and

WHEREAS, the movement of the agency outside of our urban core contrasts with smart growth principles that encourage investment in high density areas that are easily accessible to mass transit; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Aldermen understands and appreciates the importance of the agency's mission in regards to our national security and intelligence and have long been proud of its location right here in our city; and

WHEREAS, if the NGA and the city work diligently together for a solution, the federal government's considerations of zoning, commuting, infrastructure, development suitability and quality of site can be met within the boundaries of the city of St. Louis; and

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that we request the NGA to make keeping these jobs within the City of St. Louis a top priority as they consider relocation sites and we further direct the Clerk of this Board to spread a copy of this Resolution across the minutes of these proceedings.
